

We have enough policing on our plane's as it is. Clear zone's alcohol consumption and now passenger's getting upset and asking us to request the person on the phone to turn it off. Not to mention it could serve as way for terrorist to communicate information in the air. This is a BAD idea and I'm against it.